The glossary is a contract with the page Learn it in 5 minutes

A glossary row in this lab is a term, a meaning, and the page that printed the meaning. Domain, skill group, campaign, and the rest already follow that rule. A new word with no page does not get a row.

ACD is allowed because the Wikipedia article defines it. Skill group is allowed because the Five9 chapter defines it. A private acronym from a slide is not allowed until a public page says it.
