Future hooks stay unset until a page exists Learn it in 5 minutes

A future hook is a place the lab expects to grow and refuses to fake. The guide’s cloud endpoint is unset. A product sentence that says often or up to is not a roadmap date. The API page’s over 55 was not recounted.
When a child page later returns a body, the hook can become a box. Until then it stays a hook: a named gap, last checked with the month, and no URL if the body did not open. That is how the map stays true while the catalog moves.
